

About Us

At Madison Public Library Foundation, we take the City of Madison’s libraries to a new level of excellence. We provide annual grants; raise funds for capital projects; and promote awareness of Madison Public Library’s collections, programs, technology, events and more.

We believe that libraries are essential to strong communities. They offer a place to connect people of all ages, ethnicities and backgrounds, and the toolbox for an enriched, improved life.

But even in a community like ours that values its library system, taxpayer dollars don’t fund everything that residents seek. While the city budget covers the library’s operational costs, the foundation makes it possible for new and ongoing investments to thrive. These include:

- Technology and digital literacy
- Professional development for employees
- Equity and innovation efforts
- The Bubbler maker space and arts programming
- The Wisconsin Book Festival, presented by the library in partnership with the foundation
- Mini-grants for small but impactful projects

The library is an industry leader for its talented staff, innovative approach and service to the community. In 2016, it was named one of just 10 libraries and museums nationally to receive the Institute of Museum and Library Services’ National Medal for Museum and Library Service, the highest honor for U.S. libraries.

Mission

We promote and support Madison’s library facilities, services and programs.

Support

Sustaining a vibrant and diverse public library system requires an equally dynamic community of donors. Generous community members, businesses, foundations and organizations invest in the library's success through our foundation. We accept gifts to our annual fund, endowments, capital campaigns, specific purposes, Tributes and Sustainer monthly program, as well as legacy gifts — donations of stock, charitable gift annuities, life insurance, personal property, real estate and others.

We also host several fundraisers each year: Ex Libris, a sampling of craft beers and local culinary creations; Wizards in Wonderland, a spellbinding, family-friendly winter gathering; and Lunch for Libraries, an author event that raises a large portion of Wisconsin Book Festival dollars.
