IN THIS ISSUE

Your December Annual Fund Gift to Double

Pinney Gala, Grand Opening Dates Set

Library, Schools Partner for Maker Education

Meet Lakeview’s Teen Librarian
Learned that philanthropist John “Jack” Lussier Leaves Large Estate Gift to Foundation

These dollars supplement the City of Madison Public Library’s collections, and annual fund gifts will double thanks to $70K Match

Create Your Comic Story at the library

...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris Executive Director Jenni Jeffress at Ex Libris Executive Director Jenni Jeffress at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...

Play and Learn at the library

...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...

Meet the Foundation’s Five New Board Members

Madison Public Library Foundation welcomed five new members to its board of directors this fall.

...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...

Abriel Ford - Ford is an urban planner, architect, and land use designer who has spent the past five years working with the City of Madison, designing and implementing policies to improve the city’s urban development. He has also served as a project manager for several high-profile projects, including the downtown Madison Public Library renovations. His expertise in urban design and planning has earned him a reputation as a thought leader in the field.

Meet the Five New Board Members

Madison Public Library Foundation welcomed five new members to its board of directors this fall.

...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...

Abriel Ford - Ford is an urban planner, architect, and land use designer who has spent the past five years working with the City of Madison, designing and implementing policies to improve the city’s urban development. He has also served as a project manager for several high-profile projects, including the downtown Madison Public Library renovations. His expertise in urban design and planning has earned him a reputation as a thought leader in the field.

Meet the Five New Board Members

Madison Public Library Foundation welcomed five new members to its board of directors this fall.

...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...

Abriel Ford - Ford is an urban planner, architect, and land use designer who has spent the past five years working with the City of Madison, designing and implementing policies to improve the city’s urban development. He has also served as a project manager for several high-profile projects, including the downtown Madison Public Library renovations. His expertise in urban design and planning has earned him a reputation as a thought leader in the field.

Meet the Five New Board Members

Madison Public Library Foundation welcomed five new members to its board of directors this fall.

...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...

Abriel Ford - Ford is an urban planner, architect, and land use designer who has spent the past five years working with the City of Madison, designing and implementing policies to improve the city’s urban development. He has also served as a project manager for several high-profile projects, including the downtown Madison Public Library renovations. His expertise in urban design and planning has earned him a reputation as a thought leader in the field.

Meet the Five New Board Members

Madison Public Library Foundation welcomed five new members to its board of directors this fall.

...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...

Abriel Ford - Ford is an urban planner, architect, and land use designer who has spent the past five years working with the City of Madison, designing and implementing policies to improve the city’s urban development. He has also served as a project manager for several high-profile projects, including the downtown Madison Public Library renovations. His expertise in urban design and planning has earned him a reputation as a thought leader in the field.

Meet the Five New Board Members

Madison Public Library Foundation welcomed five new members to its board of directors this fall.

...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...of the library to support the annual fund at Ex Libris...

Abriel Ford - Ford is an urban planner, architect, and land use designer who has spent the past five years working with the City of Madison, designing and implementing policies to improve the city’s urban development. He has also served as a project manager for several high-profile projects, including the downtown Madison Public Library renovations. His expertise in urban design and planning has earned him a reputation as a thought leader in the field.
Meet the Library’s Five Newest Board Members

Madison Public Library Foundation welcomed five new members to its board of directors this fall.

Jennifer Hannon | Human Resources, Madison Metropolitan School District

If your business, organization or club is interested in supporting the gala and grand opening events, please visit madisonpubliclibrary.org/125.

Meet Lakeview’s New Teen Librarian

Robin Amado is the new Teen Librarian at Lakeview Library. She grew up outside of Chicago and has lived in Madison since 2012. Amado previously worked at a high school as an English teacher and the Navy National Jazz Ensemble at Madison West High School. Last summer, she worked at the Goodman South Madison Library, and worked with them this year at the Public Library Foundation.

Francisca Rodriquez | is the Strategic Program Officer in the Office of the Dean of Education. She comes to the School of Education after working since 2012 as a technology consultant for the Knight Foundation, the sector at the heart of local program tools and innovations. She worked as a member of the Child Health Initiative, the Child Friendly Schools Network and the Global Fund to Fight Childhood Malnutrition. Her research interests include children’s early development. She holds a Ph.D in Developmental Psychology from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Teens who complete the program were invited to end-of-summer parties to rate their own illustrations into their work by taking photos of their drawings to use as backstorying or props. Many students incorporated photos of themselves from their favorite places in the library to create the central characters in their favorite stories.

Our 2017 Summer Reading Club was provided in large part by the Steve Stricker American Family Insurance Foundation Officer for Madison Public Library Foundation. From her years of service: Hannon is a member of the State Bar of Wisconsin, American Bar Association, the Madison Estate Council and Madison Public Library Foundation.

Ariel Ford

Ford was born in Talladega, Ala., but attended high school in Madison. She earned her degree in elementary education with an emphasis in art. She attended the University of Wisconsin-Madison, graduating from the School of Journalism and Mass Communication. She is married to a Madison native, Alphagraphics, and retired from professional opportunities.

Chris Jaye

Jaye is the Executive Director of the Goodman South Madison Library. Her hobbies include traveling, enjoying time with friends, theatre, dining out, and reading both fiction and nonfiction. She has a Kindle and has over 100 books checked out but prefers to hold books in her hand.

Jennifer Hannon | Human Resources, Madison Metropolitan School District

If your business, organization or club is interested in supporting the gala and grand opening events, please visit madisonpubliclibrary.org/125.

Meet the Library’s Five Newest Board Members

Madison Public Library Foundation welcomed five new members to its board of directors this fall.

Jennifer Hannon | Human Resources, Madison Metropolitan School District

If your business, organization or club is interested in supporting the gala and grand opening events, please visit madisonpubliclibrary.org/125.

Meet Lakeview’s New Teen Librarian

Robin Amado is the new Teen Librarian at Lakeview Library. She grew up outside of Chicago and has lived in Madison since 2012. Amado previously worked at a high school as an English teacher and the Navy National Jazz Ensemble at Madison West High School. Last summer, she worked at the Goodman South Madison Library, and worked with them this year at the Public Library Foundation.

Francisca Rodriquez | is the Strategic Program Officer in the Office of the Dean of Education. She comes to the School of Education after working since 2012 as a technology consultant for the Knight Foundation, the sector at the heart of local program tools and innovations. She worked as a member of the Child Health Initiative, the Child Friendly Schools Network and the Global Fund to Fight Childhood Malnutrition. Her research interests include children’s early development. She holds a Ph.D in Developmental Psychology from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Teens who complete the program were invited to end-of-summer parties to rate their own illustrations into their work by taking photos of their drawings to use as backstorying or props. Many students incorporated photos of themselves from their favorite places in the library to create the central characters in their favorite stories.

Our 2017 Summer Reading Club was provided in large part by the Steve Stricker American Family Insurance Foundation Officer for Madison Public Library Foundation. From her years of service: Hannon is a member of the State Bar of Wisconsin, American Bar Association, the Madison Estate Council and Madison Public Library Foundation.

Ariel Ford

Ford was born in Talladega, Ala., but attended high school in Madison. She earned her degree in elementary education with an emphasis in art. She attended the University of Wisconsin-Madison, graduating from the School of Journalism and Mass Communication. She is married to a Madison native, Alphagraphics, and retired from professional opportunities.

Chris Jaye

Jaye is the Executive Director of the Goodman South Madison Library. Her hobbies include traveling, enjoying time with friends, theatre, dining out, and reading both fiction and nonfiction. She has a Kindle and has over 100 books checked out but prefers to hold books in her hand.

Jennifer Hannon | Human Resources, Madison Metropolitan School District

If your business, organization or club is interested in supporting the gala and grand opening events, please visit madisonpubliclibrary.org/125.

Meet the Library’s Five Newest Board Members

Madison Public Library Foundation welcomed five new members to its board of directors this fall.

Jennifer Hannon | Human Resources, Madison Metropolitan School District

If your business, organization or club is interested in supporting the gala and grand opening events, please visit madisonpubliclibrary.org/125.

Meet Lakeview’s New Teen Librarian

Robin Amado is the new Teen Librarian at Lakeview Library. She grew up outside of Chicago and has lived in Madison since 2012. Amado previously worked at a high school as an English teacher and the Navy National Jazz Ensemble at Madison West High School. Last summer, she worked at the Goodman South Madison Library, and worked with them this year at the Public Library Foundation.

Francisca Rodriquez | is the Strategic Program Officer in the Office of the Dean of Education. She comes to the School of Education after working since 2012 as a technology consultant for the Knight Foundation, the sector at the heart of local program tools and innovations. She worked as a member of the Child Health Initiative, the Child Friendly Schools Network and the Global Fund to Fight Childhood Malnutrition. Her research interests include children’s early development. She holds a Ph.D in Developmental Psychology from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Teens who complete the program were invited to end-of-summer parties to rate their own illustrations into their work by taking photos of their drawings to use as backstorying or props. Many students incorporated photos of themselves from their favorite places in the library to create the central characters in their favorite stories.

Our 2017 Summer Reading Club was provided in large part by the Steve Stricker American Family Insurance Foundation Officer for Madison Public Library Foundation. From her years of service: Hannon is a member of the State Bar of Wisconsin, American Bar Association, the Madison Estate Council and Madison Public Library Foundation.

Ariel Ford

Ford was born in Talladega, Ala., but attended high school in Madison. She earned her degree in elementary education with an emphasis in art. She attended the University of Wisconsin-Madison, graduating from the School of Journalism and Mass Communication. She is married to a Madison native, Alphagraphics, and retired from professional opportunities.

Chris Jaye

Jaye is the Executive Director of the Goodman South Madison Library. Her hobbies include traveling, enjoying time with friends, theatre, dining out, and reading both fiction and nonfiction. She has a Kindle and has over 100 books checked out but prefers to hold books in her hand.

Jennifer Hannon | Human Resources, Madison Metropolitan School District

If your business, organization or club is interested in supporting the gala and grand opening events, please visit madisonpubliclibrary.org/125.
Giving from IRA is a Smart Option

With fewer taxpayers itemizing their deductions due to the lowered tax law changes last year, giving to Madison Public Library Foundation from an IRA has become increasingly popular.

If you’re over 70½, you can make a Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD) of up to $100,000 per year from a Traditional, Roth, inherited, or SIMPLE IRA to the foundation. The gift comes out of your IRA, reducing the amount you have to withdraw from your IRA, which is often regular required minimum distributions (RMD).

In addition to funding your giving, the QCD also reduces your income by the amount of the gift from taxable income, which is not subject to federal or state income tax. It also counts toward your Required Minimum Distribution (RMD).

If you're older than 70½, you can make a Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD) of up to $100,000 per year from a Traditional, Rollover, SEP or SIMPLE IRA to the foundation. The gift stays out of the IRA custodian to the foundation on or before December 31. Note: If you’re younger than 70½, you can make a QCD from your Traditional, Rollover, SEP or SIMPLE IRA, but you must pay income tax on the gift from taxable income, which is subject to federal and state income tax.

The QCD also avoids gift-giving taxes, reduces contributions to donor-advised funds and trusts, and other sorts of smart giving mechanisms. For more about smart ways to give, visit mplfoundation.org or call our office at 608-266-6318.

GIVING FROM IRA IS A SMART OPTION

With fewer taxpayers itemizing their deductions due to the lowered tax law changes last year, giving to Madison Public Library Foundation from an IRA has become increasingly popular.

If you’re over 70½, you can make a Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD) of up to $100,000 per year from a Traditional, Roth, inherited, or SIMPLE IRA to the foundation. The gift comes out of your IRA, reducing the amount you have to withdraw from your IRA, which is often regular required minimum distributions (RMD).

In addition to funding your giving, the QCD also reduces your income by the amount of the gift from taxable income, which is not subject to federal or state income tax. It also counts toward your Required Minimum Distribution (RMD).

If you're older than 70½, you can make a Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD) of up to $100,000 per year from a Traditional, Rollover, SEP or SIMPLE IRA to the foundation. The gift stays out of the IRA custodian to the foundation on or before December 31. Note: If you’re younger than 70½, you can make a QCD from your Traditional, Rollover, SEP or SIMPLE IRA, but you must pay income tax on the gift from taxable income, which is subject to federal and state income tax.

The QCD also avoids gift-giving taxes, reduces contributions to donor-advised funds and trusts, and other sorts of smart giving mechanisms. For more about smart ways to give, visit mplfoundation.org or call our office at 608-266-6318.

Ex Libris a Winning Affair

Madison Public Library Foundation’s 2018 Ex Libris set a new fundraising record. The Foundation it raised $60,000 for Libraries through the generous support of attendees, sponsors, guests, and those who purchased silent auction items.

The event not only featured an auction of unique and generous packages, but also introduced our new Executive Director, Jenni Jeffress. We’re so grateful for the support of our sponsors and guests, and for the growth of our community. Ex Libris a Winning Affair was the most valuable Staff Day we’ve had in the terms of learning new information and being applicable to our jobs.

Foundation Executive Director Jenni Jeffress kicked off the day with the presentation of the Elizabeth Monroe Volunteer Scholarship to Joji Watsuki, and the announcement of a new professional development endowment fund. Retired Librarian Barbara Arnold presented on the Foundation’s new professional development endowment fund, which will require the gift of $40,000 to the Fund.

Another anonymous donor has since contributed $11,000 more to the fund, which will sustain career challenge gift that was matched by library staff. Another anonymous donor has since contributed $11,000 more to the fund, which will sustain career.

The Foundation also accepts gifts of stock and securities, contributions to specific funds and endowments, matching gifts from donor-advised funds and trusts, and other sorts of smart giving mechanisms. For more about smart ways to give, visit mplfoundation.org or call our office at 608-266-6318.

Madison Public Library Foundation’s 2018 Ex Libris set a new fundraising record. The Foundation it raised $60,000 for Libraries through the generous support of attendees, sponsors, guests, and those who purchased silent auction items.

The event not only featured an auction of unique and generous packages, but also introduced our new Executive Director, Jenni Jeffress. We’re so grateful for the support of our sponsors and guests, and for the growth of our community. Ex Libris a Winning Affair was the most valuable Staff Day we’ve had in the terms of learning new information and being applicable to our jobs.

Foundation Executive Director Jenni Jeffress kicked off the day with the presentation of the Elizabeth Monroe Volunteer Scholarship to Joji Watsuki, and the announcement of a new professional development endowment fund. Retired Librarian Barbara Arnold presented on the Foundation’s new professional development endowment fund, which will require the gift of $40,000 to the Fund.

Another anonymous donor has since contributed $11,000 more to the fund, which will sustain career.

The Foundation also accepts gifts of stock and securities, contributions to specific funds and endowments, matching gifts from donor-advised funds and trusts, and other sorts of smart giving mechanisms. For more about smart ways to give, visit mplfoundation.org or call our office at 608-266-6318.